

Forward thinking communities aren't the only ones choosing Hotwire Communications

2020 WINNER

Independent Operator of the Year

Cablefax, the nation's leading trade publication for the telecommunications industry, selected Hotwire Communications as Independent Operator Of The Year for 2020. Here's just a bit of what they had to say:

“ For years, Hotwire Communications was one of the best-kept secrets in broadband. It quietly built out fiber, struck new partnerships and ratcheted up speed. But the cat is now out of the bag, with the company consistently ranking Number 1 on Netflix's speed index, PC Mag touting it as one of the nation's fastest ISPs and incumbents waking up to some serious competition. ”
